Fifth Sunday of Lent

Scripture Reflection:

Read the Gospel: John 12:20-33

Gospel Summary

In today's Gospel, Jesus announces, "The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified." But this glorification will take place only after his suffering and death on the Cross. Jesus uses the example of a grain of wheat that only produces fruit when it falls to the ground and dies. He promises that those who die to themselves by serving him will know the reward of eternal life.

Reflection for Parents

Draw a timeline of your life in five- or ten-year increments (from birth to age ten, from age ten to age twenty, from age twenty to age thirty, and so forth). Leave room on the timeline to note any experiences of suffering, pain, and sorrow that you recall. Perhaps one of your parents died at a young age, a favorite pet died, your childhood friend moved away, or you lost your job.

After you complete your timeline, review it again and note the good that came after the times of suffering. Consider that two of the most important and most valuable lessons you can teach your children are to let go and to trust that good will come after or as a result of what may seem too difficult to bear.

Bringing the Gospel into Your Family

Talk about recent or well-known news stories highlighting those who gave their lives so that others might live. Older family members will recall 9/11, and younger children may remember special collections they took part in for victims of hurricanes, fires, floods, and other natural disasters.

Go to organdonor.gov to find facts, inspiring real-life stories, and educational tools useful for talking with your family about the ways organ donors give of their lives so that others might live. Encourage family members age eighteen and older to register to be organ donors.

Pray for all who have given their lives so that others might live.

LOVE, MARRIAGE & FAMILY

Married Love and the Gift of Life - Conclusion

A teaching statement by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) approved for publication by the full body of bishops at its November 2006 General Meeting.

Is it true, as some claim, that some methods of birth control can cause an abortion?

Some methods of birth control are aimed at preventing the union of sperm and egg and therefore act only as contraceptives. These would include barriers such as condoms and diaphragms.

By contrast, hormonal methods such as the Pill may work in several ways. They can suppress ovulation or alter cervical mucus to prevent fertilization, and thus act contraceptively. But they may at times have other effects, such as changes to the lining of the uterus. If the contraceptive action fails and fertilization takes place, these hormonal methods may make it impossible for a newly conceived life to implant and survive. That would be a very early abortion. Medical opinions differ on whether or how often this may occur. Currently there is no way to know precisely how these drugs work at any given time in an individual woman.

Concern about the risk of causing an early abortion is stronger in the case of pills taken after intercourse to prevent pregnancy ("emergency contraception" or "morning-after pills"). In some cases these pills are taken when sperm and egg have already joined to create a new life, in which case the drug could not have any effect except to cause an early abortion.

Conclusion

By using contraception, couples may think that they are avoiding problems or easing tensions, that they are exerting control over their lives. But the gift of being able to help create another person, a new human being with his or her own life, involves profound relationships.

It affects our relationship with God, who created us complete with this powerful gift. It involves whether spouses will truly love and accept each other as they are, including their gift of fertility. Finally, it involves the way spouses will spontaneously accept their child as a gift from God and the fruit of their mutual love. Like all important relationships with other persons, it is not subject solely to our individual control. In the end, this gift is far richer and more rewarding than that.

Living God's design for human sexuality in marriage can be difficult. But husbands and wives have not been left alone to live out this fundamental life challenge. If you have failed to do so in the past, do not be discouraged. God loves you and wants your ultimate happiness. Loving as Christ loves is a possibility opened to us by the power of the Holy Spirit, as a free gift of God. Through prayer and the sacraments, including Reconciliation and the Eucharist, God offers us the strength to live up to this challenge. Recall the words of Christ, repeated so often by John Paul II: "Be not afraid!" The Church's teaching on marital sexuality is an invitation for men and women—an invitation to let God be God, to receive the gift of God's love and care, and to let this gift inform and transform us, so we may share that love with each other and with the world.

FAITH AND PRAYER

What Vocations Mean to Me

by Bianca Valenzuela,

Member, St. Anthony Mary Claret Vocations Committee

If there is one word that could encapsulate what vocations mean to me, it would unequivocally be Mary. Our Blessed Mother continues to live her vocation through apparitions like Lourdes, Fatima, Akita, and Kibeho. She has been calling us all to conversion, and to live our vocations in the intimate ways in which we are called.

Mary is also the mother of priests. Her maternal love, yields such tender understanding for the priesthood. It was born of her role and witness in the immolation of her son, the Eternal High Priest. Through priests, we see Jesus. We witness their sacrifice, we witness their commitment to God, and we see a tireless effort to encourage and save souls. As Marian priest St. John Vianney once said, “Without the Sacrament of Holy Orders, we would not have the Lord.”

Mary is truly the perfect follower of Christ, and at the foot of the Cross, Jesus gave his mother to us all. In leading me to her son, she led my heart to pray for more priests and the protection of the priesthood. May our priests forever remain under the gentle mantle of our Blessed Mother.

Pray with the Vocations Committee!

Each month the St. Anthony Mary Claret Vocations Committee requests that you join them in praying for a few local seminarians and an increase in vocations to religious life. They also commend to your intercession a group committed the consecrated life:

School Sisters of Notre Dame

Below are the seminarians who will be the recipients of your prayers this month:

Christian Ramirez

Christian Rocha

Lord Jesus, Good Shepherd, may young people in our parish hear your call and follow your voice as they discern their vocations. Lead your people to heaven through the ministry of holy priests and consecrated men and women. Jesus, we trust in you! Amen.

Pray for the Sick of Our Parish Family

Please take 90 seconds out of your busy schedule and offer one Our Father, one Hail Mary, and one Glory Be for the sick of our parish family:
